

www.prodinstant.com, developed by The Productivity Institute, LLC, matches a company's specific needs to highly rated, expert consultants with those specific skill sets. By signing up for this free matching service, companies can easily specify their needs and be rapidly contacted by up to five highly and constantly rated, expert consultants. Outstanding consultants can help most companies by providing excellent value and enhanced prodinst.

Companies in Need	Expert, Rated Outstanding Consultants
Companies can find the rated outstanding consultants they require along with helpful product information. All of our consultants are constantly rated outstanding by the companies where they provide their services. We provide excellent information about consulting including what to look for and how outstanding consultants can greatly enhance value and prodinst. The entire signup process is quick and easy. There is no charge or obligation for our consultant match service.	For a nominal monthly fee plus a small percentage for any signed contract, rated consultants receive detailed, pre-qualified leads about a company, key contact and its specific requirements that match their area(s) of expertise. It is then up to them to meet with the company and close the deal. By providing pre-qualified information, we do much of the initial marketing and preparation that consultants require.
Win – the company finds the information and rated outstanding consultants it requires at no cost or obligation – a no lose situation.	Win – the rated service provider gets pre-qualified leads at a nominal cost that they would otherwise be unaware of.

Every business needs consultants - regardless of its size

Prodinst – the providing of consultants that enhance value and improve productivity

The Productivity Institute, LLC was incorporated in 1999. Since that time, we have helped many companies increase their productivity.
